

CHICAGOAN SAYS MAYOR
WILL SERVE OUT TERM

Chicago must wait for the next mayoral election to rid itself of Mayor William Hale Thompson, whose pro-Germanism has made him a target of criticism throughout the country, according to a statement today by Walter V. Rene, Chicago business man.

"I believe Carter H. Harrison will be the next mayor," he said, "but whoever is elected, he will be a 100 per cent American, and Chicago will vindicate itself before the country."

"The strange thing about the Chicago situation is that Thompson, in the last election, defeated County Clerk Switzer on the clean-cut issue of Switzer's German ancestry. My idea is that Thompson wants to be different from other people. It seems to amount to a fetish with the man. If Chicago were a German city, he'd probably be pro-ally."

MYSTERIOUS 'DORA'
WAS THE VAMPIRE,
SAYS MRS. BRAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Further correspondence pertaining to the past of Mrs. Florence Genevieve Hagan Brand, who is being sued by her husband, James H. Brand, for the annulment of their marriage on the ground that she obtained through fraud, has been introduced by Max D. Steuer, attorney for the husband, in the preliminary examination of Mrs. Brand before the actual trial, which will take place in October.

Mrs. Steuer on Monday read to the witness a letter from Mrs. Margaret A. Adams, in which the writer spoke of "vampire qualities" alleged to have been possessed by Mrs. Brand and her relations with Louis Adams, just before his death. The lawyer now has produced a letter from Mrs. Brand to the witness, in which she expressed surprise that her name was associated with Mr. Adams and inferred a woman named "Dora" was the person who was friendly with Mr. Adams.

Angry at Ignorance.
"Was very glad to hear from you," the letter said, "but most angry at such ignorance as Mr. Ireland's connecting me with Mr. Adams in a wrongful way."

"Yes, I know all about who Dora is, and I will do all I can to help you—but her parents are of the very common and ignorant class, and I am afraid nothing could make them do the right thing."

"Tell me exactly what I can do for you and what you want to know and I will do all in my power to help you."

"Mr. Adams is the finest man I have ever known. He has the most wonderful heart in the world and has shown me the way out of many difficulties, but only because I have had no experience, and I hope I can meet you so I can make you understand, for I simply can't write and express my thoughts."

"If Mr. Frank Adams told you Mr. Adams ever supplied me with money, he told a lie. I am independent, and Lou will tell you he has cashed checks and loaned me money many times when I would be overdrawn, but I was always able to square around. I am very extravagant and often have to slow down a bit."

Wanted to Be Friend.
"Mrs. Adams, I want to be a friend to you the same as to Lou, and if there is anything at any time, I will surely help. I hope some time I can meet the children and do sweet things for the little girl, Frances, for I have had a mighty lonely life, and when I am fixed better financially, which I hope will be soon, I am surely coming to see you."

"I will marry in April, I suppose."

"Write me and ask me any questions you wish. I will be confident and ask you the same. Sincerely, GENEVIEVE HANAN."

Mrs. Steuer asked Mrs. Brand to explain what she meant by leading a lonely life, after testifying she had traveled about the country since she was eight years old, visiting some three hundred places.

"I really don't know," she said resignedly.

SIGNAL SERGEANT NOW BOSSES FORMER BOSSES
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Time was when John E. Hoey, Jr., a clerk in the brokerage offices of J. Senator Knox to Honor Ishii and Mission Tonight

Viscount Ishii and the members of the Japanese mission will be the honor guests at the dinner which Senator Philander C. Knox is giving this evening at his home in K street. The Senator has asked a distinguished company to meet them.

Viscount Ishii and the members of his suite will leave town Saturday for Philadelphia, en route to New York.

The garden party given at Graystone, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Judah H. Sears, last evening in honor of the Japanese mission, headed by Viscount Ishii, was one of the most unique and brilliant functions Washington has known this season. Not even the autumn chill in the air could interfere with the success of the evening, although the ladies wore luxurious furs over their handsome gowns and a number of men resorted to overcoats. Dancing was a welcome diversion.

In the absence of Mrs. Sears, who is at her camp in the Adirondacks, Mrs. Peter Goelet Gerry, wife of the Senator from Rhode Island, served as hostess for Mr. Sears, receiving the guests with him. The company, numbering over 150, was unusually interesting and included in addition to Cabinet officers, diplomats, and other officials, many of the interesting newcomers to Washington who are playing so important a part in society these days.

Graystone sits high on the bluffs in Rock Creek Park, overlooking Killebrew road, and is easily one of the most charming places in the vicinity of Washington. The terraced lawn lent itself last night to a wonderful system of electric lighting, under gay colored shades which transformed it into fairyland. The long pergola served as a banquetting place for the host and the guests of honor, with electric lights of gay hue carrying out the national colors of Japan, and the flags of the two nations were conspicuously placed. Long tables were laid on the terrace on either side of the pergola, and smaller tables were advantageously placed to add to the beauty of the scene. Electric lights, hundreds of them, glimmered from the shrubbery and trees.

Senator Knox, who is the British commission, and Captain Mayor, of New York, house guests of Mr. Sears, were at the dinner.

Later he was given a commission in that branch of the reserve corps. They leased the house of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bennett Fox, in Edgewood, Md., which they will give up that house at the end of the month, when they will take possession of the house at 2019 Massachusetts avenue, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon Crawford. Mr. Shaw came to Washington last spring to serve with the Council of National Defense.

Mrs. Davidson and Miss Davidson, who passed the season at Nonquitt, Mass., will return to Washington about October 1.

BUT Fashion has given her mind principally to the crown or lines of the hat and it is THE BRIM AND THE CROWN that has received the chief attention, and yet in some cases the brim has vanished out of sight, leaving practically the crown only.

—Turbans, some with the somewhat elongated, rather high soft crown, suggesting a Spanish origin, and another style has the dash and air of the chapeaux worn by the Three Mousquetaires. A roll at the side of the back, the clipped ostrich feather around the crown, and the plume of uncurled ostrich over the top completes the simile.

—There are velvet hats with beaver or felt tops, the brim is black and the top is in tan or the new carot or rust-red shade. The majority are self trimmed.

—There are other styles that one almost decides are devoid of trimming, when the discovery is made of a small but exceedingly straight and stiff military pompon away out on the brim.

—In colors, as mentioned in our announcement yesterday, Paprika leads, followed by beet-root, mole, taupe, fete de negre, midnight blue, dark green, wine, cardinal, and black.

—The metallic effects, which are chiefly combined with black give another color effect that is almost indescribable but very rich. Some have the whole crown of the metal cloth, others have a flange turned up at the side which is entirely of the metallic cloth.
